Five Bedrooms, Five Full Baths, One Half-Bath
EXPECTED JANUARY 5TH.

Stunning 7300 SF
Georgian colonial 20,766 SF lot

A breathtaking two-story circular entry hall with upper level gallery establishes the elegant tone of this residence the moment you walk through the mahogany front door. The level of fine woodwork trim throughout this level is unmatched. Radiating from the elegant rotunda are the Living Room, Dining Room, Library with private balcony overlooking a perpetual conservation area, Family Room, Kitchen and Breakfast Room.

Upstairs the gallery walk, with its private, sun-drenched reading nook, carries you to four bedrooms and 3.5 baths. The Master Bath is newly remodeled to provide the spa experience today's buyers expect in a home.

Two lower levels provide tremendous options for use and enjoyment. The first lower level provides a full suite of rooms - a fifth bedroom and en suite full bath, an additional full bath and a second large family room.

The second lower level, which is walk-out level, can be used as a great gaming room or fitness center.

The home has three fireplaces, three garage bays faces a quiet cul de sac with fountain and ring of cherry trees.

School Naming Comes Down to Wire

O'CONNELL GIRLS OFF TO SOLID START

Bishop O'Connell High School's Maikya Simmons dribbles toward the basket during the Knights' home victory over Holy Child in girls basketball action last week. O'Connell is enjoying a 3-1 start to the season. See a story in Sports and a slide show of photos at www.insidenova.com/news/arlington.

Stratford Committee Delivers No Consensus

SCOTT McCAFFREY
Staff Writer

The hour was late and members of the Arlington School Board were by their own admission tired and perhaps punchy as they worked Dec. 6 to get closer to a decision on whether to rename the building that was born as Stratford Junior High School and in more recent decades has housed the H-B Woodlawn Secondary Program.

"It's late and I'm sorry," School Board Vice Chairman Tan-

nia Talento said as she grappled with composing her thoughts and asking a question during an information session in preparation for an expected Dec. 20 vote on the school's name.

The options on the table are:

- "Stratford Middle School."
- "Legacy Middle School at the Historic Stratford Building."
- "Dorothy Hamm Middle School at the Historic Stratford Building."

'The Heights' Preferred for New Rosslyn Parcel

SCOTT McCAFFREY
Staff Writer

That Eunice Kennedy Shriver – founder of the Special Olympics – is deserving of praise is indisputable. But does her name belong on an Arlington school building?

A committee empaneled to propose a name isn't so sure, nor is the community (at least based on results of a school-sponsored survey). But School Board members will have the final say.
