Arlington, VA – Bean, Kinney & Korman, P.C. announced today that Matthew Roberts has been named a shareholder of the firm; he was previously an associate of the firm.

Matt's practice focuses on land use and zoning in Northern Virginia, administrative and municipal law, real estate and business transactions, and public utility matters.

"It is a privilege to welcome Matt into this new role as a shareholder of the firm," said Tim Hughes, Managing Shareholder. "His insatiable curiosity, responsiveness and energy make him a true asset to our clients and the firm."

Matt currently serves on the Northern Virginia Transportation Alliance's Board of Directors and has served on Habitat for Humanity of Northern Virginia's Board of Directors in the past.
