

Juanita Ferguson Presents on the Fundamentals of Construction Law at the Judicial Conference of Virginia for District Court Judges

ATTORNEYS

Juanita Ferguson

RELATED PRACTICE AREAS

Construction

RELATED INDUSTRIES

Construction

August 19, 2011

Arlington, VA — Bean, Kinney & Korman attorney Juanita Ferguson spoke this month at the Judicial Conference of Virginia for District Court Judges on the Fundamentals of Construction Law in Virginia. Juanita provided insights and guidance on construction law as it relates to owners, architects, suppliers, contractors and subcontractors, based on her significant experience in this area.

“We are very proud to have Juanita represent the firm and our construction law practice group,” said Managing Shareholder Leo Fisher. “Juanita is extremely dedicated to this field and her depth of knowledge and experience is a significant benefit to our clients and the community.”

Juanita discussed important details on topics including negotiating contracts, AIA contracts, documentation, owner’s right to stop/perform work, contractor duties, changes to work, enforcing contracts, damages, warranty claims, regulation, administrative claims and relief, mechanics’ liens, parties’ rights and other related subject matter.