

Taylor N. Klauza

tklauza@beankinney.com

ph: 703.284.7275

fx: 703.525.2207

PRACTICE AREAS

Domestic Relations

BAR AND COURT ADMISSIONS

Virginia, 2020

Supreme Court of Virginia

EDUCATION

University of South Carolina, B.A., 2017, summa cum laude

George Mason University School of Law, J.D.,
2020, magna cum laude;

Taylor Klauza is an associate attorney with Bean, Kinney & Korman practicing family law and domestic relations. She helps guide her clients through the complexities of divorce, child custody, spousal support and court proceedings, all with grace and steadfast responsibility to meet their desired outcomes.

Taylor is licensed to practice in Virginia and most recently worked as a law clerk for Judge Daniel S. Fiore II, Arlington County Circuit Court, where she assisted in navigating the new virtual legal landscape. As a judicial law clerk, she assisted with and observed multiple domestic relations cases involving intricate issues. While in law school, Taylor interned at Fairfax Circuit Court for the Honorable David A. Oblon.

BEYOND THE SUIT

Taylor is a proud dog mom to her golden retriever, Jax, who she takes anywhere possible. Outside of the office, Taylor enjoys watching Survivor, reading fiction and traveling. One goal of Taylor's is to visit all 50 US states.

Associate Editor, George Mason Law Review

CLERKSHIPS

Law Clerk to the Honorable Daniel S. Fiore
II, Arlington County
Circuit Court, 2020-2021